GenAI is most useful when tasks are time-consuming and information-centric

GenAI may be able to assist with repetitive tasks, either directly or by helping create a solution

Maintain an agile stance regarding GenAI so you can benefit as these tools evolve

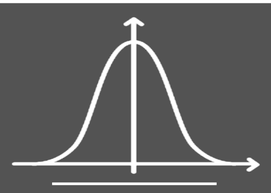
Mistakes with GenAI will be made. Effective leaders approach these as learning opportunities

Probabilistic AI models don’t work like deterministic computer programs



GenAI operates entirely in shades of gray, unlike most computing applications

Do we need an answer, or do we need an exact answer?
